Tugboat, Steel, Western Union Strikes Are Still Deadlocked; Settlement Efforts Continue

New York Fuel, Food Is Cut Short

Third Week in Steel Holdup May Be the Climactic Period as Truman Keeps Busy
O'Dwyer Acts
Plan Being Considered to Cover Long Period of Emergency

New York's fuel supply was cut short today as 3,500 tugboat workers, supported by 35,000 longshoremen, went on strike over a wage dispute and the steel strike deadlock continued as White House efforts were carried on to find a solution.

Associated Press reports on the two major tie-ups, and on the strike of the American Communications Association involving Western Union, are as follows:

Tugboat Strike
New York, Feb. 4 (AP)—A strike by 3,500 tugboat workers, supported by 35,000 longshoremen, tied up shipping in the vast New York Harbor today and cut off a large portion of the city's food and fuel supplies.

The workmen, members of Local 333, United Marine Division of the A.F.L., International Longshoremen's Association, officially left their jobs at 12:01 a. m. (E.S.T.) as the result of a wage dispute with the tugboat operators, organized as the New York Tugboat Exchange.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the I.L.A., said the 35,000 longshoremen of the parent union would support the walkout by refusing to load or unload any ship which normally would be handled by the strikers.

Union officials met for an hour this morning with Edward C. Maguire, labor advisor to Mayor O'Dwyer, and William C. Liller of the U. S. Conciliation Service. No progress toward a settlement was reported where the session ended.

Company officials were to meet later with Maguire and Liller.

Won't Affect G.I.s
The union itself planned a membership meeting for 3 p. m. (E.S.T.).

Troopships, returning G.I.s home from abroad, will not be affected. They will be serviced by Army tugs. Only other shipping expected not to be disrupted consisted of railroad-owned tugs, a few boats owned by two oil companies and Navy tugs.

In Washington, federal seizure was seen as a possibility in the event the city's supply need not become desperate. Should circumstances warrant, the Labor Department would be expected to recommend such a step, a person close to the situation said.

Tugs Indispensable
The little tugs are indispensable to work in the harbor where they perform a variety of tasks. They tug the big liners and freighters into their piers and haul smaller craft carrying many items vital to life in the metropolis. Some 400 were tied up by the strike.

Mayor O'Dwyer estimated the city would be without 80 per cent of the normal flow of coal and other fuel and nearly half its food supply. Much of the city's fuel and food are imported along the Hudson river from railroad terminals in New Jersey.

Fire Apparatus, Express Truck Are In Smash-up Today

Aerial Truck Was on Way to False Alarm From Manor, Albany Area; 6th Turned In

The big aerial truck of the Kingston Fire Department and a truck of the Railway Express Agency, Inc., were damaged this noon in a collision at the intersection of Down street and Manor avenue, as the fire apparatus was responding to the sixth false alarm that had been rung in since last Thursday night. No personal injuries were reported.

The fire truck was on the way out Manor avenue in response to the false alarm turned in from Box 5331, at Manor and Albany avenues, while the Railway Express truck was going out Down street from Broadway.

The aerial truck jackknifed and the left side of the express truck which was forced into the curb, hitting and falling a large tree standing on the curb at the street intersection. The tree fell against a house, doing some damage.

The alarm sounded from the fire box this noon was the second turned in from that box. The first was Saturday morning.

Herbert Simonetti was driving the express truck, while Fireman Fred Williams was at the wheel of the big aerial truck.

The fire truck and the express truck were wedged together so tightly that the big pump of the fire department was used to haul them apart.

Uphold Esquire
Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Supreme Court today struck down a Postoffice Department attempt to bar Esquire magazine from use of second class mail. Justice Douglas delivered the high court's 8-0 decision. Justice Jackson took no part in the case.

One of Coldest Days of Winter
Mercury Hits Subzero Readings Today in Kingston

Kingstonians shivered this morning in one of the coldest days of the winter with the official thermometer at 1 o'clock recording 1 degree below zero. Thermometers in other sections of the city diverged to subzero readings.

A biting cold wind swirled through the city early today, and at 8:30 o'clock the official thermometer stood at 4 degrees.

Sunday was extremely cold in Kingston with the official thermometer ranging from a low of 9 degrees in the morning to a high of 23 degrees in the afternoon. As the sun set during the afternoon it gradually grew much colder.

Strikes at a Glance
(By The Associated Press)

New strikes up total of 14,000. Major developments:
Shipping—New York Harbor shipping tied up by strike of 3,500 A.F.L. tugboat workers, backed by 35,000 longshoremen; 80 per cent of city's fuel supply, half its food cut off, Mayor O'Dwyer estimates; federal seizure considered possible.
Steel—Showdown expected this week in steel strike; new pricing formula expected from White House may win industry's acceptance of 18 1/2 cents hourly wage increase; magazine Steel reports steel output is 5 1/2 per cent of normal.
Brass—14,400 C.I.O. brass workers walk out in Connecticut and Buffalo, N. Y., plants, strike postponed in third plant of brass industry's "Big Three."
Schools—Custodians' strike may force closing of St. Louis public schools, holiday for 90,000 pupils; Mayor Kaufmann offers in act as conciliator in wage dispute.
Congress—House vote on strike control bill expected tomorrow or Wednesday, but Senate expected to act slowly.

Housing Shortage May Force City Hall March By Poughkeepsie Vets

Poughkeepsie, Feb. 4—A veterans march on City Hall about April 1, in protest of the acute housing shortages in Poughkeepsie was predicted here last night.

Horace Carpenter Jr., of Buffalo, president of New York State Association of Real Estate boards, addressed the warning to Mayor Doran at a meeting of the Dutchess County Realty Board.

Speaking before almost 100 members and guests of the county board, Mr. Carpenter addressed himself personally to Mayor Doran, asking:

"Have you had veterans marching on the City Hall yet?"

"About April 1, you will have veterans marching on the City Hall. Conditions will be much worse before they are better."

Van Dyke Hearing Set for Wednesday After Hot Debate

George Van Dyke, 57, a negro of 24 Ann street, accused of turning in a false fire alarm Friday morning in police court, it was announced this afternoon by Chief of Police Charles Phinney.

A hearing had been set for this morning but City Judge Matthew V. Cahill refused to consider charge against the negro until he was given a mental examination by the city's health officer.

Cahill Refuses Case
The negro was taken back to police headquarters when Judge Cahill refused to entertain the charge of disorderly conduct and Chief of Police Charles Phinney sent out for Special City Judge Francis Martucci, who had committed the negro to jail Friday for a hearing today, after Judge Cahill had refused to entertain any charge against the negro.

Following a conference between Judge Martucci and the police chief, the judge ordered the hearing set down for Wednesday.

While Judge Cahill refused to entertain any charge against the man until he had been given a mental test by the city health officer, Police Chief Phinney claimed that a mental examination had been given Van Dyke in the county jail by Dr. James A. Mathers and Dr. Doug S. Meyers, and they failed to find the negro insane.

Van Dyke was arrested Friday morning by Officers George P. Bowers and Henry Ronnenberg, who had been assigned to investigate the series of false alarms that started ringing Thursday night.

Friday when the police sought to read showing that the enterprise is almost to the goal.

"Contributions have been coming in at an encouraging rate," he told a reporter, "and I'm confident that we shall reach our objective. The way people of Kingston have been contributing is a good indication that this city is generally free from any prejudice as to race, color or creed."

Caroline Vogt, 22, Is Struck by Car; Arrests Are Made

Bernard Held on Two Charges by Police; Auto Owner Is Also Arrested

Miss Caroline Vogt, 22, of 34 South Clinton avenue, is in the Kingston Hospital from injuries suffered at 8 o'clock Sunday evening when she was struck and knocked down by an automobile, which the police claim was driven by Donald Bernard, 18, of 49 Tompkins street.

Bernard is under arrest on two charges, one of leaving the scene of an accident, and the other of operating a car without a license. This morning Judge Matthew V. Cahill adjourned the hearing in both cases to next Monday to determine the extent of the injuries suffered by Miss Vogt. Bail of $500 was continued.

Her condition was reported as fairly good at the hospital this noon.

Decker Fined
The car which the police allege was driven by Bernard, is owned by Francis Decker, 24, of Saugerties, who was not with Bernard at the time of the accident. Decker was arrested by the police on a charge of permitting an unlicensed driver to use his car.

Judge Cahill fined Decker $10 on the charge.

According to the police record, Miss Vogt had alighted from the auto of Joseph Carro of 170 Fairview avenue, and had started to cross the street at Lucas and Washington avenues, when she was knocked down by an auto.

Fallon Chases Car
Officer Joseph Fallon commanded the auto of Burton Davis and set chase after the offending car, and overtook it at the roller skating rink at Spring Lake. The officer placed Bernard under arrest, lodging the two charges against him.

The police say that as Carro halted his car near the curb, that a taxi driven by Albert Wolfersheim of 274 Linderman avenue, pulled up alongside the Carro auto.

As the taxi halted for the red traffic light it is claimed that Bernard passed the halted car and as he did so his auto hit Miss Vogt.

Girl's Injuries
Miss Vogt was injured about the head, and suffered a cut lip and nose, one tooth was knocked out; her leg was bruised and she sustained a possible concussion.

The police were informed that she would be kept at the hospital for several days.

Committee Confident About Church Drive

Chairman H. G. Rafalowsky of the drive to raise $2,500 for Franklin Street A.M.E. Zion Church, is confident that at tonight's meeting of the funds committee a glowing report will be read showing that the enterprise is almost to the goal.

Greenwich Upset Because Locale Is Satisfactory

Residents of Connecticut Frown on Idea of U.N.O. Taking Away Their Estates

By JAMES H. PORTERFIELD
Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 4 (AP)—This normally peaceful Connecticut community, its nearby hills dotted with homes of many wealthy New York city lawyers, bankers and business men, was in turmoil today over its inclusion in the site recommended for the United Nations world capital.

An estimated one-third of the town of Greenwich lies in the 42 square miles of Connecticut and Westchester County, N. Y., countryside rated No. 1 by the U.N.O. Site Inspection Committee which returned to London yesterday to report to the General Assembly on the proposed location for permanent U.N.O. headquarters.

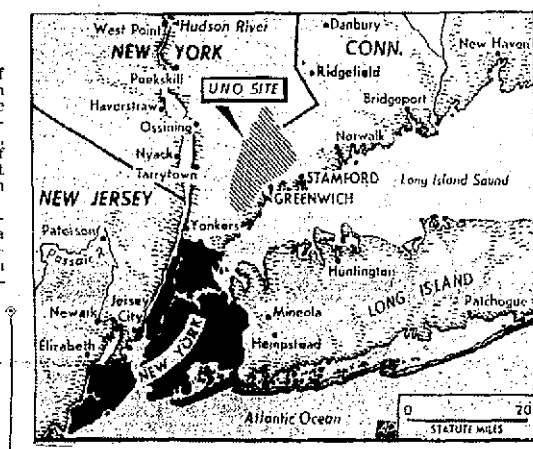

The committee announced New York City as its primary choice for interim headquarters.

Protests also came from some of the New York state communities affected, especially the 200-year-old town of North Castle, all of whose 1,000 inhabitants live in the proposed permanent site, but it was in Greenwich that the storm struck hardest.

On one side property owners confronted with the prospect of eviction from land that has been in their families for generations protested that the choice was "unfair and undemocratic."

"We hope," said Wilkie Bushby, a New York city lawyer and leader of the opposition forces, "that we can stop this thing. This community made a sacrifice during the war and it would make a sacrifice for peace. But it doesn't want to make a sacrifice so U.N.O. secretaries can go to night clubs in New York City."

On the other side was a less vociferous group, among them a representation of Greenwich shopkeepers, who thought that the choice bestowed a high honor on the community and that the cities of opponents reflected selfish interest.

Show Cause Order Signed in Case Of C. N. Behrens

An order to show cause why Charles N. Behrens should not be reinstated and restored to the position of Director of the Kingston Department of Public Welfare, was signed today by Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth. The order is returnable at special term of Supreme Court at Albany on Friday, February 8.

Mr. Behrens, petitioner in the action, brings the action against the three commissioners of the Department of Public Welfare, City Treasurer William B. Byrne, City Clerk Leo P. Fennelly, members of the Municipal Civil Service.

Exclusion of Area at Ulster Park From Consideration by Group Protested

The Kingston United Nations Organization Site Committee cabled a protest Saturday to the Secretary General of the U.N.O. in London following announcement of the recommendations of the seven-man group which came to this country to inspect proposed sites. The Ulster Park area in the Town of Esopus, which had been visited by the entire committee and requested by two representatives of that body, was not listed in the sites recommended for consideration by the General Assembly.

The protest, cabled by George E. Yerry, Jr., chairman of the committee, received support of persons of international prominence, who also filed a declaration against the exclusion of the Ulster county area for consideration by the United Nations General Assembly.

Having met the requirements and the essential criteria for the permanent headquarters of the global peace home as directed by

Navy Hints Tremendous Role For Subs in Atomic Warfare

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—Atomic warfare, if it ever comes, may find the submarine ranking with the carrier-borne airplane as a prime naval weapon.

This likelihood shaped up today as the result of a series of Navy expressions hinting at the trend of future planning as well as slipping away the secrecy from some high policies of the past war.

In the latter connection was the disclosure that this country's sea arm went along with the total war philosophy of the Axis by issuing an order in the first days after Pearl Harbor for "unrestricted air and submarine warfare against Japan." The wisdom of this, the Navy reasoned, was shown in the fact that Japan's supply lines to her conquered empire were cut, 276,000 Japanese killed and 1,894 ships sunk by Allied submarines.

But even now the mounting importance of the undersea fleet gives added significance to current proposals for United States acquisition or control of former Japanese-held islands in the Pacific and other far off-shore bases.

Such bases would have high operational value for watching trouble spots of the world by means of submarines.

From Vice Adm. Charles A. Lockwood, who is leaving command of submarine forces in the Pacific to become the Navy's Inspector General, comes some highly interesting thoughts about Navy planning. He told a week-end news conference that:

Findings Submitted On Area

Considerations Listed Which Influenced It Particularly in the Choice

Brief Survey

Greenwich - Stamford Are Considered Most Suitable

Detailed information on the proposed site for the United Nations permanent headquarters at Ulster Park was submitted to the United Nations General Assembly in London, according to an Associated Press Dispatch.

The local committee furnished the Assembly with a prospectus which described the proposed site in the Town of Esopus and contained views of the Rondout, Esopus Valleys and Catskill Mountains. In the brochure also were aerial views of the Ulster Park site and Ashokan Reservoir and maps and sketches of the area.

A complete answer to all of the qualifications and essential criteria, an album of pictures in natural colors and a movie reel of the area also were sent to the General Assembly in London.

General Chairman George E. Yerry, Jr., when informed that the Ulster Park site was submitted stated that this news would please the committee, which would continue its efforts.

Objects to Boston
London, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Soviet delegation of the United Nations Committee investigating suggested sites for permanent headquarters asked that Massachusetts be ruled out because of a Boston speech "showing hostility to the United Nations," according to an unofficial version of the committee's report obtained today from a reliable source.

The committee has arrived in London with a recommendation to establish the United Nations home in the north Greenwich-Stamford area of New York and Connecticut.

The informant said the report showed that the other members of the committee did not feel that the speech, made by Judge John E. Swift of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, Sunday January 20 at a public meeting in Boston, should be sufficient ground for excluding Massachusetts.

The report indicates that the north Greenwich-Stamford area was given the top recommendation because the committee felt it was the most suitable place.

Detailed information was given on fourteen areas, seven near New York City and seven in the vicinity of Boston. They are:

Boston—Blue Hills district, Boylston-Shawbury district, Chomley Hill district (Rhode Island), Lincoln-Marlboro district, North Shore district, Plymouth district, Portsmouth-Bristol district (Rhode Island).

New York—Amawalk district (Westchester county), Hyde Park district, North Greenwich-North Stamford district (New York and Connecticut), Princeton district (New Jersey), Ridgefield-Poundridge district (New York and Connecticut), Tuxedo Park district, Ulster Park district (near Kingston, New York).

The Considerations
The committee said that the considerations "which have influenced it particularly in the choice" were:

Distance from and accessibility to a large metropolis.
Climatic conditions, especially in the summer.
Natural features in the area and danger of urban development.
The possibility of constructing a city.
Availability of educational facilities.
Accessibility to recreational facilities such as the seacoast and mountains.
The committee decided that although a rural area might eventually allow the United Nations to have a capital with "an independent existence and personality of its own," more immediate and practical considerations required that "the site should be reached by which could not be reached by back."

British Brides Land in U. S. After 9-Day Hard Voyage

By BELMAN MORIN

New York, Feb. 4 (AP)—Storm-tossed and tired, but radiant with anticipation, the first group of "British brides"—English women who married American soldiers during the war—reached New York today on the Army Transport, Argentina, after a nine-day, 1,000-mile voyage across the North Atlantic.

A total of 451 women and 175 children were aboard the ship which docked shortly before 7 a. m.

The wives ranged in age from Mrs. Ben P. Butler, 16, to Mrs. Harold N. Cooper, 44.

With her 18-month-old daughter, Mrs. Butler was enroute to Rensselaer, N. Y. Mrs. Cooper and her daughter, 17, by a previous marriage, and son, 15 months by the present one, was rejoining her husband in Manhattan Beach, Calif.

The 451 aboard the Argentina were given passage from among some 27,000 applications under an army system of priorities based on hospitalization and de-mobilized American soldiers.

As the Argentina slipped past the docks in Southampton, the women lined on the decks, began singing "There'll Always Be an England." Tears streamed down their cheeks. At almost the same instant, another group began the words for "God Bless America."

Doctors attribute the high incidence of seasickness to nervous strain, reaction to the emotions of fear, apprehension and high excitement that beset women who were leaving their homes to go to a new and unfamiliar country.

More than half the 175 children on the ship were under 18 months of age. Mothers were physically incapable of caring for them.

One Hysterical

On Sunday night, Jan. 27, screams sounded on "A" deck, a woman lay there in the corridor, rolling from side to side and crying "I'm finished, I'm finished."

Capt. Reynolds ran to her side and attempted to get her on her feet. She fought him off. It took the officer and two nurses to get her to her cabin. There she became increasingly violent and was taken to a hospital ward for mental patients. She will be placed under the care of public health authorities in New York.

Wednesday, January 30, was the worst of all the nine days. Early that morning, the Argentina collided with a full gale. The wind at times reached a velocity of 70 miles an hour.

Twenty miles behind her, the giant Queen Elizabeth "hove to," stopping entirely.

Worst Storm

It was the worst storm, officers said, of a winter that has already broken bad-weather in the upper North Atlantic. The storm lasted nearly two days.

Through it all, army transport officers, assisted by a few of the women, did everything possible to make life bearable.

All are limed of America, and most are apprehensive of finding themselves "different" in the new country.

The ship's master, Capt. Thomas Simmons, of Manhasset, N. Y., placed the prevailing estimate of "a wonderful bunch of girls."

Highland Teacher Injured in Accident

Miss Ella Falkenburgh, Highland school teacher, was injured Saturday while returning to Highland from Poughkeepsie when a taxi of the Van Benschoten Cab Company of Poughkeepsie met with an accident between the Mid-Hudson bridge and the Highland traffic circle. The cab was driven by John Ross of 4 Clifford street, Poughkeepsie. He suffered lacerations of the arms and numerous bruises. His passenger, Miss Falkenburgh, had a lacerated foot and contusions of the left elbow. She was treated by Dr. Peter Lord of Highland. The accident was investigated by State Police from the Highland barracks. No other car was involved in the accident.

The lightest exchange offer of a 10 cents an hour increase for all personnel was rejected by the union.

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—President Truman held a hurriedly-called conference with Secretary of Labor Schwelbensch and C.I.O. President Murray today in a renewed White House effort to end the steel strike deadlock.

Neither Schwelbensch nor Murray would comment as they emerged from the half hour session, which began at the unusual early hour of 3:30 a. m., but the labor secretary said:

"We came out smiling." (Murray, who also is head of the C.I.O. United Steel Workers said only to reporters:

"The President asked me to come over to talk with him about the steel situation."

"Whatever is said has got to come from him," Murray added. Asked if he was optimistic for a settlement, he said merely "I'm forever an optimist."

Mure Cheerful

Administration sources appeared to be becoming more cheerful again about prospects for a break in the deadlock between Murray's union and the steel companies.

Immediately after the conference, White House aides announced that O.P.A. Administrator Chester Bowles would see the President at 3:30 this afternoon. Bowles has been holding out for a $2.50 a ton increase in steel prices, while the industry is seeking a $6.25 boost to compensate for a wage increase.

Sticks to Proposal

The President is reported to be sticking to his proposal that the 750,000 striking steel workers be given an 18 1/2 cents an hour increase. Current conferences apparently have to do with a decision on how much an increase should be granted manufacturers in the price of steel.

Schwelbensch said he did not know whether the President had any plans to summon Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel, for a White House talk.

After the departure of the union leader and Schwelbensch, the President's congressional leaders went in for a weekly conference with him.

At C.I.O. headquarters, a spokesman said Murray was called yesterday and asked to come to the White House this morning. Schwelbensch had even less notice, a Labor Department official declared.

The meeting took place as the steel strike entered its third and perhaps climactic week.

Hebrew School Opening Scheduled for Today

The Kingston Hebrew School officially begins the new term today, Rabbi Harold Schechter, spiritual leader, announces. Minimum enrollment age for boys and girls is seven. Rabbi Schechter will be at the school every day from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. to accept new students.

Daily sessions are scheduled four times weekly, Monday through Thursday, beginning at 4 o'clock. Basic courses cover Hebrew reading and writing; prayer book (Siddur) study; bible, Jewish customs and ceremonies; Yiddish, holiday plays and festivities.

A course in synagogue services and procedure will also be part of the new curriculum. Mrs. Charles Katz and Ralph Klein of the Hebrew school committee have pledged their fullest cooperation to the movement.

New students for Sunday school also will be accepted. Sunday school sessions start at 10:30 a. m. and offer studies of Jewish history, Bible and current Jewish problems.

A school paper, "The Voice of Youth" will be published by the Hebrew school student organization. Both Hebrew and Sunday school students will collaborate in publication of the paper.

Bevin Hurls Charges Of "Lie" at Vishinsky

London, Feb. 4 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain cried "lie" today in the United Nations Security Council to a charge by Russian Foreign Vice Commissar Andrei Vishinsky that British troops in Greece were protecting the Hlaski forces there.

In a hot and heavy argument over Russia's demand for the "immediate withdrawal" of the troops on the ground that they endangered international peace, Bevin asserted:

"Mr. Vishinsky says that our troops in Greece are protecting the Hlaski forces. I give the lie to that."

He spoke after Vishinsky, in a 90-minute statement, had charged Bevin's friendliness toward Russia in telling the Security Council last Friday that the "real danger" to world peace was Moscow propaganda against the British.

"I'm not unfriendly toward Russia," Bevin said in his detailed rebuttal, delivered for the most part in a calm, slow voice. "I just want equal treatment."

Gets Moscow Post

London, Feb. 4 (AP)—Sir Maurice Drummond Peterson, 56-year-old veteran British career diplomat, now serving as ambassador in Turkey, has been named Ambassador to Moscow to succeed Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, Clark Kerr, now on a special mission to Indonesia, will become Ambassador to the United States this spring.

The lightest exchange offer of a 10 cents an hour increase for all personnel was rejected by the union.

Washington, Feb. 4 (AP)—President Truman held a hurriedly-called conference with Secretary of Labor Schwelbensch and C.I.O. President Murray today in a renewed White House effort to end the steel strike deadlock.

Neither Schwelbensch nor Murray would comment as they emerged from the half hour session, which began at the unusual early hour of 3:30 a. m., but the labor secretary said:

"We came out smiling." (Murray, who also is head of the C.I.O. United Steel Workers said only to reporters:

"The President asked me to come over to talk with him about the steel situation."

"Whatever is said has got to come from him," Murray added. Asked if he was optimistic for a settlement, he said merely "I'm forever an optimist."

Mure Cheerful

Administration sources appeared to be becoming more cheerful again about prospects for a break in the deadlock between Murray's union and the steel companies.

Immediately after the conference, White House aides announced that O.P.A. Administrator Chester Bowles would see the President at 3:30 this afternoon. Bowles has been holding out for a $2.50 a ton increase in steel prices, while the industry is seeking a $6.25 boost to compensate for a wage increase.

Sticks to Proposal

The President is reported to be sticking to his proposal that the 750,000 striking steel workers be given an 18 1/2 cents an hour increase. Current conferences apparently have to do with a decision on how much an increase should be granted manufacturers in the price of steel.

Schwelbensch said he did not know whether the President had any plans to summon Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel, for a White House talk.

After the departure of the union leader and Schwelbensch, the President's congressional leaders went in for a weekly conference with him.

At C.I.O. headquarters, a spokesman said Murray was called yesterday and asked to come to the White House this morning. Schwelbensch had even less notice, a Labor Department official declared.

The meeting took place as the steel strike entered its third and perhaps climactic week.

Bevin Hurls Charges Of "Lie" at Vishinsky

London, Feb. 4 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain cried "lie" today in the United Nations Security Council to a charge by Russian Foreign Vice Commissar Andrei Vishinsky that British troops in Greece were protecting the Hlaski forces there.

In a hot and heavy argument over Russia's demand for the "immediate withdrawal" of the troops on the ground that they endangered international peace, Bevin asserted:

"Mr. Vishinsky says that our troops in Greece are protecting the Hlaski forces. I give the lie to that."

He spoke after Vishinsky, in a 90-minute statement, had charged Bevin's friendliness toward Russia in telling the Security Council last Friday that the "real danger" to world peace was Moscow propaganda against the British.

"I'm not unfriendly toward Russia," Bevin said in his detailed rebuttal, delivered for the most part in a calm, slow voice. "I just want equal treatment."

W.F.W. Takes No Action on Church Purchase Sunday

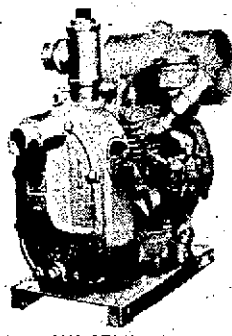

Not Enough Members Present to Decide; Will Vote at Feb. 21 Meeting

No action was taken by Joyce Schrick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on the proposition to purchase the vacant Roundout Presbyterian Church at the foot of the Wurts street hill, for a club house, due to the lack of a quorum at the special meeting Sunday afternoon at the Kingston Recreation Center on lower Broadway.

Less than 40 members of the organization attended the meeting. It was decided to send notices to all of the members of Joyce Schrick Post to attend the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, February 21, when the proposition will be voted upon.

The members of the organization for some time have been holding their meetings in the Kingston Recreation Center, and as the membership is rapidly growing the need of a clubhouse of its own is definitely designated.

The Roundout Presbyterian Church has not been used since the congregation took over the property of the Wurts Street Baptist Church, which was deeded to the Presbyterians by the Baptists. All of the Presbyterian services are now held in the former Baptist Church, and the Baptist congregation is uniting with the Presbyterians in all of the church services.

Protest Cabled U. N. O. Assembly on Selection

The General Assembly, it was felt by the local committee that the governing body, which will make the final choice, should be invited to survey the area before deciding the permanent location.

Members of the visiting committee declared that the Ulster Park area was the most majestic site inspected and engineers accompanying the foreign representatives stated that it had all the physical attributes and met the requirements.

When asked about the distance from New York city, Dr. Gravitovic, the chairman, declared that 80 or 85 miles would make no difference if the site was what they wanted. Ulster Park is 80 air miles from New York city.

In the placing of the Hudson Valley area in a secondary position, it was felt by both committees from Hyde Park and Ulster county that the requirements had been changed. Whether the change was made by the General Assembly or the interim selection committee has not been learned.

Frederick A. Smith, chairman of the Hyde Park committee, expressed surprise and disappointment as to the recommendation. He stated that he had expected Hyde Park to be selected as the permanent peace capital. The Hyde Park committee is continuing its efforts through representatives in London.

Saturday afternoon announcement was made that the Greenwich-Stamford area of Connecticut was recommended as the permanent headquarters. In addition to this specific recommendation, the committee reported on Hyde Park, Blue Hill in the Boston area and the North Shore section northeast of Boston.

Text of Cable

The text of the Kingston committee cable follows: The Kingston, N. Y., committee wishes to enter a vigorous protest against the selection of the Greenwich-Stamford area and the exclusion of Ulster Park, N. Y., in determining the site of the United Nations headquarters.

"If the criteria established by the General Assembly can be deemed reliable, the suggested Connecticut area must meet with your disapproval. Your sub-committee stated after visiting the Ulster Park proposed site, 'It is the most majestic site we have inspected and meets all of our requirements except for its distance from New York city.'"

"The Ulster Park area is within the 80-mile limit of New York City. Why were we evaded, or is that limitation applicable only to Hyde Park? Ulster Park offers many more than 50 square miles with a population displacement of less than one person per 10 acres; ample water supply already available from world's largest existing reservoirs; low property values; no serious objections by residents; entire river-front available for free port; areas available for the largest airport; high plateau for radio facilities.

"The scenic grandeur of the Hudson river and Catskill mountains have worldwide recognition. The selection of a permanent home for the United Nations is of deep concern to the entire world. Because insufficient time for inspection was given most areas, we suggest another committee be formed to make a thorough and serious survey of the places originally classed as worthy of consideration. If this is done it will restore confidence in the procedures as established by your General Assembly."

Urge Scientific Grading of All Prisoners in State

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 4 (A)—Legislation to prohibit commitment of prisoners to specific institutions and to give the Department of Correction greater flexibility of transfer from one institution to another was urged today by the Prison Association of New York.

The association would take from the courts and vest in the Department of Correction the authority to select the institution to which a prisoner is to be committed.

For this purpose the association, in its 101st annual report, called for establishment of a division of classification within the department.

"There is no clear-cut division of types of prisoners in any one prison, but instead a mixture," the report declared. "The idea of emphasizing the need for specialized study and treatment," the report continued, "can be greatly advanced through the success of the Elmira clinic."

"It is not too much to anticipate sometime in the future that Sing Sing prison will be dealing with certain types of prisoners, Auburn others, Attica with another type, and so on as relates to all of the institutions in a well-rounded program of classification."

The association noted that the legislature made an "excellent start" last year, in harmony with Governor Dewey's proposal, by authorizing establishment of a reception center at Elmira Reformatory to deal with persons between the ages of 16 and 21. It said this should be expanded "to apply not only to those within present age limits but for all in the department as a whole."

road or rail within an hour and a half" (from a big city).

The committee was not enthusiastic about the climate in the eastern states it visited, stating that it was not "entirely ideal."

However, the report said, there were definite advantages in high ground, particularly near the coast.

While the committee gave a sharp recommendation favoring the Greenwich-Stamford area, it noted cautiously that "it may be doubted whether any of the areas visited succeeds in satisfying all of them (the qualifications listed) completely."

The committee inquired into the kind of agreement necessary to ensure protection for the United Nations on its home ground and recommended that "the only satisfactory way" would be to sign a treaty with the United States government.

"Representatives of the state government concerned should of course participate in all the discussions, but the federal government should itself acquire the necessary land for the purpose of transferring it to the United Nations, and the status, quiet enjoyment, privileges and immunities of the zone should be guaranteed by treaty," the report said.

Answer to Protests

The committee report also provided a partial answer to protests of landowners on the recommended area.

It called attention to "the good will value of avoiding, as far as possible," evacuation of the local population in the United Nations zone.

"The United Nations must reserve the right to clear the territory should this be necessary at any time," the report said, but recommended that "the people whose premises are not required to be cleared should continue to reside there (in the zone) as tenants of the United Nations until such times as it became necessary to take over their premises, it being understood that the whole area will be acquired by the United Nations from the outset."

The report makes clear that the United States government should be responsible for compensating anyone evicted from the chosen area and the American government should be repaid later by the United Nations.

Explaining the recommendation that the chosen site should cover 40 to 50 square miles, the committee said although this much land is not needed at present, it should be acquired to allow "expansion over a period of 30 or 40 years or more" and to give the United Nations protection from the possible establishment of factories nearby.

Brief Survey

In a brief survey of four places they inspected, the committee made the following observations: Blue Hills—Good land, communities and school facilities but the district is "rather hemmed in" on the west, south and east by villages and small towns, and it would not be easy to extend the site beyond the 40 square miles or thereabouts which are at present available.

Hyde Park—The United Nations might be able to have their own port on the Hudson. "The district is apt to be rather hot in summer," and "the area does not lend itself very easily to the building of a city inasmuch as there is only one strip of land which lends itself to city planning."

The committee said that the "close association of the area with President Roosevelt's x x x is greatly welcomed in certain American quarters and arouses just as strong opposition in others."

North Shore—The coolest summer climate of any of the areas which we visited, although "the road approach to Boston is a good deal to be desired, but we are told 'this area is in hand to improve them.'"

North—Ford-Greenwich—"Nearer to New York than any of the others we inspected, x x x Excellent building and residential sites x x x the present population of the district is about 3,000."

The committee expressed special appreciation for the kindness and courtesy which the federal authorities showed to us throughout our visit.

The federal government left "it entirely to the United Nations to make their own choice, but what ever assistance we required from them was readily forthcoming," the report says.

town meeting tomorrow night. None doubted that the session would be a stormy one. Whatever action is taken will represent the official attitude of the community.

Opponents Views

In brief the views of opponents are crystallized into these main points:

That town officials and taxpayers should have been consulted by the site committee of their attitude.

That other sites, equally suitable, could have been found that would not have involved displacement of so many people.

That displaced persons, hundreds of whom commute to jobs in New York city, will be unable to find other homes in commuting distance.

That the loss to the tax rolls will work a hardship on other residents.

North Castle Protests

Across the New York state line in North Castle, civic, social and political organizations fired a volley of protest cables at the United Nations Assembly in London.

Thorne of the messages, said John E. Lockwood, lawyer and resident of the community, was that the U. N. O. committee was "spending $100,000,000 more than was necessary in order to be near New York city's nightclubs."

Lockwood referred to the cost of land in the area.

A protest cable bearing nearly 1,000 signatures also was dispatched from Greenwich, while churches and World War II veterans in Bedford Village, N. Y., sent others.

Lockwood declared "real estate agents and property owners who own land they want to get rid of" were the only ones who favored the U. N. O. selection.

Among the North Castle opponents was Everell Finch, 27-year-old farmer and Army Air Force captain who recently returned from 18 months overseas, during which he was wounded.

Finch said the farm on which he lives had been in his family for 13 generations. The land originally having come through an original grant from the King of England about 1630.

"This is the place I wanted to come back to and live," said Finch. "It's the only real home I could ever have. I don't want to be banished forever."

Roger N. Baldwin, New York city lawyer and chairman of the Greenwich Budget Committee, estimated at $50,000,000 the assessed valuation of real and personal property in that part of the town which would be incorporated in the U. N. O. site.

An estimated 5,000 persons reside in the full 42-square-mile area, among them former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, magazine publisher Henry R. Luce and his wife, Rep. Clare Booth Luce (R-Conn.), and Frank H. Schulz, retired New York banker and brother-in-law of Herbert H. Lehman, director of the U. N. R. R. A.

Tunney said if it were necessary for world peace "we'd give up our land 10 times over" but added he thought the selection was "a great mistake."

Stelle Lashes Out At Supporters of Bradley's Regime

Legion Head in Newburgh Speech Issues Defy to Anyone to Debate V. A. Issues

Newburgh, N. Y., Feb. 4 (A)—Supporters of the present Veterans Administration today had a challenge from John Stelle, national commander of the American Legion, to debate his charges that there has been a breakdown in V. A. services.

Stelle, speaking at a meeting of the Legion's Ninth New York District yesterday, asserted he would "welcome an opportunity for further discussion" of his claims. He said he was backed by findings of the Legion's rehabilitation, legislative and employment committees.

"I'll go before any group in the American Legion or before any public forum," he said. "I'd welcome an opportunity for further discussion" based not on the sentiments of any one individual, but on the facts in the case. I challenge anyone to meet me in a debate on this subject."

He said accusations against the Veterans Administration "must be true" because "word comes that the Veterans Administration in Boston is putting on a night force starting February 11 in an effort to try and handle the volume of work brought to them by returning veterans."

Stelle, who had asked the ouster of Gen. Omar Bradley as veterans administrator, asserted, however, that "all America honors Bradley as a great general."

Pays Tribute to Bradley

"The American Legion is happy to pay him tribute," said Stelle. "But if this tribute requires covering up the inefficiencies of the Veterans Administration and turning a deaf ear to the complaints of needy ex-service men and women, it is too costly, too dear."

In New York, Henry W. Gorber, national commander of the Army and Navy Union, said Bradley had done "an excellent job" as V. A. head and would succeed "if let alone by politicians."

In Portland, Me., Edward A. Trudell of Boston, a vice commander of the organization known as A. M. V. E. T. S., said Stelle's criticisms of Bradley would be made "because Bradley wouldn't play politics with the American Legion."

A NEW THRIFT PLAN WEEKLY INSTALMENT SHARES

"It's not what you earn—but what you save, that counts!"

HERE ARE THE DETAILS: Ask Yourself These 11 Questions

1. Q. What is the primary purpose of the Instalment Share savings plan and its advantages?

A. It enables all persons, regardless of age and earning power, to accumulate $250 ... $500 ... $1,000 ... $2,500 ... $5,000 or more by SAVING SMALL SUMS WEEKLY.

Because of the regularity in payments, a higher rate of dividend is paid on instalment shares than is paid on the paid-up shares.

2. Q. Can two persons own an account together?

A. Yes—any two people, husband and wife, two friends, etc., can own the account together. The account is payable to either or to the survivor. Accounts can also be opened by one person in trust for another, and of course an individual may have the account in his own name. Minors over 12 years of age may hold shares in their own name.

3. Q. Can I save by mail?

A. Yes—payments by money order or check may be made by ordinary mail—cash by registered mail. Pass books are returned promptly.

4. Q. When does a series open and when does it mature?

A. As of February, May, August and November in each year. There is no membership fee. Each share has a maturity value of $250 and each share receives the same dividend as very other share in the series, compounded each dividend period. If all payments are made each week as due, the shares will mature in approximately eight years and four months on basis of the present dividend rate.

5. Q. What do I agree to when opening an Instalment Share saving account?

A. You agree to pay each week a certain amount depending upon your goal.

Weekly Payment	Shares	Maturity Value
$ .50	1	$ 250.
1.00	2	500.
2.50	5	1250.

Good Taste Today

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children and People," etc.)

THE CARELESS SHOULD FORFEIT BORROWING PRIVILEGES

A letter from a man asks: "How can one refuse to lend one's books and yet not seem selfish? Many times my wife and I have had to ask people for our books and then have been very much upset by the condition in which they are returned to us: Backs broken, edges dirty and in other ways so badly used that I am sure lending libraries would require payment for damages were their books so mistreated."

"The worst of it is that our books are coming between our friends and us. This is what happened: One friend of ours went away for several weeks and asked us to let her have certain new books. She had been home over a month and no mention was made of their return. I telephoned her and had to give her the list as she couldn't remember which books they were and in the end she said she never had had one of those I mentioned. We keep a list of books 'out' and I know she had it. But the matter has to be dropped because to go further would simply come between our friendship. I am writing you because I have written about the careless book borrowers several times but the only suggestion I can make is to put away the books you value or say that someone else is waiting to read whichever one is asked for."

A Man's Hat

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it polite for a man to keep on his hat when sitting at a lunch counter? Also, when standing in line at a cafeteria?

Answer: Certainly! Where else could he put it?

"The Rev." For Ordinary Usage

Dear Mrs. Post: Are there any occasions when it is better form to spell out "Reverend" and prefix it with "The"?

Answer: "The Reverend" spelled out is in unquestionably best taste but it is rather too formal for ordinary usage. "The Rev. Henry Jones" is usual and correct. Of greatest importance is the exaction that if his Christian name be unknown to you he must be addressed as The Rev. Mr. Jones. "The Reverend Jones" is very bad form.

Tailored Suit Correct

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it correct to wear a tailored suit to a semi-public tea?

Answer: Yes.

Correct forms for letter writing are found in Mrs. Post's booklet "The Etiquette of Letter Writing," obtainable for 18 cents in coin and a 3-cent stamped self-addressed envelope, sent to her in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York, N. Y.

Pair Triumphs in Upstate Ice Events Over Week-End

Notre Dame Skein Stopped, 56 to 55 By Northwestern

Wildcats Decide Game in Last Seconds; Other Week-End Scores Given

Notre Dame's great winning streak came to an end over the week-end when the insurgent Wildcats from Northwestern stopped the Ramblers with a 56 to 55 victory in Chicago. It was the first South Bend loss in 14 starts this year.

Northwestern's Max Morris "iced" the decision for the Evansville cagers with a field goal in the last five seconds of the game. Morris was high scorer in the clash with 24 points. Klier dumped in 16 for Notre Dame.

The big contest of the week will find Notre Dame (once beaten) and New York University (once beaten) meeting in Madison Square Garden Saturday night before a sellout throng.

Frank Briggs and Marion Hanley Capture Both Mohawk and Hudson Valley Titles

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 4 (AP)—An explosives worker from Pompton Lakes, N. J., and a comedy Staten Island Miss swept all competition aside to score triumphs in two major upstate skating events over the week-end.

Frank Briggs and Marion Hanley captured the Senior Men's and Women's titles at the Mohawk Valley Speed Skating Championships at Amsterdam yesterday, only 24 hours after they had copied laurels for the same division at the Hudson Valley event at Troy.

Briggs, who won the 440, 880 and mile events and finished second in the 220, pulled up 110 points to win the Mohawk Valley event. Herman Van Putten, Patterson, N. J., 1945 winner, tied for second with Gil Swenson, Prospect Park, N. J. Each had 50 points.

Miss Hanley, who copped the 220 and 880 yard races, led the Senior Women with 70 points, successfully defending the title she won a year ago. Norma Davis, Flushing Heights, L. I., was second with 60 points and Patricia Patnode, Schenectady, scored 30 points to wind up in third spot.

Briggs, who skates for the Grand Street Boys, rang up 70 points Saturday to win the Hudson Valley Championship. Van Putten, who fell in the 220 and failed to place in that race, was second with 60 points and John Schneider, also of the Grand Street Boys, was third with 50 points.

Boys' Division winner at Amsterdam were Ray Harrington, Oceanside, Intermediate; Francis Walsh, Saratoga, junior; Thomas Pina, Saratoga, juvenile, and Albert Emmett, New York city, mid-jet.

Marion Lynch, Newburgh, won the Intermediate Girls' title. Other winners were Virginia Rochet, Newburgh, and Margie Biggie, Saratoga Springs, tied in Junior Girls; Helen Johnson, Port Jervis, Juvenile Girls; and Beverly Stewart, Newburgh, Midget Girls.

First place ties featured the Intermediate and Juvenile Boys' Division Saturday. Harrington of Oceanside, L. I., and Joseph Walsh of Elmhurst, L. I., each amassed 30 points in the Intermediate Class. Martin Burns of Saratoga Springs, had 30 each to top the juveniles.

Fred Esser, Jr., of Fairlawn, N. J., made a clean sweep of Junior Boys competition. Emmett skating for the Queensbrook S. C., New York, won the only Midget Boys event, the 220.

Miss Lynch took both the 220 and 880 to sweep Intermediate Girls' competition. In other divisions only one distance was skated. Marcia Frankwitz, Schenectady, copped the Junior Girls 440; Miss Snyder of Fort Johnson, the Juvenile Girls 440; and Miss Stewart of Newburgh, the Midget Girls 220.

The No. 5—Key Pin: The payoff pocket in bowling is between the Nos. 1 and 3 pins, with a right-handed delivery. When the ball is planted in the pocket this is what happens: The No. 1 pin sweeps off the left hand line of pins, the 2-4-7. The No. 3 takes off the 6-10 with it. The ball, driving inward, hits the No. 5 and the 5 knocks down the No. 8. The ball itself, being deflected off the No. 5, takes out the No. 9.

That is the perfect pocket strike hit. The objective always is the No. 5—the key pin in the setup. When a ball is not full in the 1-3 pocket, the No. 5 is touched only lightly so that it doesn't topple the No. 8—leaving the ugly 8-10 split.

The 8-10 split is the signal for a change to one of two things: (1) With a hook ball either slow up the ball a little to allow it to get a larger "break" into the pins, or (2) start the ball a bit more to the right side of the alley, toward the gutter, and send it more directly at the 1-3 pocket.

The straight ball bowler's simple solution when he isn't "covering the corner" is to move toward the corner—to the right—and aim to hit the No. 1 pin more fully. . . . try to have the ball "cover" three-quarters of the pin.

'Y' Quintet Registers 49 to 38 Win Saturday

Smith Is High Scorer Against Stamford; Juniors Shellack West Camp Club

In The Pocket with CHARLIE TIANO

Coach Lou Shafer's Y. M. C. A. cagers got in their final flicks at the "Y" boards Saturday night prior to the big Newburgh game this week by pouncing out a 49 to 38 victory over the Stamford A. C. In the preliminary the "Y" Jays chalked up their 13th straight victory of the campaign by rolling over West Camp, 64 to 23.

The Y. M. C. A. quintet, with Buddy Smith, Al Bruce and Al Thomas showing the way, took a 20 to 12 lead at halftime and were never in danger. Smith, Kingston center, led the winners in the scoring column with 12 markers. Bruce dumped in 11 and Thomas followed with an even 10. Leo was high for Stamford with 13.

Although failing to do much damage in the scoring ledger, Hanson, Kurvis, Myers and Hornbeck played another outstanding game in the guard slot.

McElrath's 13 points took high honors in the initial contest as the Y. M. C. A. team continued on its merry winning skein. Gorseline slipped in 12 and Perry had 10. Kingston enjoyed a 33 to 10 lead at halftime.

Newburgh Thursday Kingston's next big tussle will be at the municipal auditorium Thursday night at 8:45 o'clock when the strong Newburgh "Y" quintet appears here. Leading both the Hudson Valley and Newburgh City League, the Hill City cagers will undoubtedly be the locals' strongest competition to date. Newburgh will have Ed Pihus, Howie Havens, Frank Rohan, Sammy Inzeria and Rudy Coppell, all ex-DUSO League greats, to do battle.

Veterans Given Welcome at White Eagle Hall Sunday

Returning G.I.'s fêted at a welcome home dinner by the Sacred Heart Society, a Polish organization, Sunday in White Eagle Hall, Delaware avenue, were praised for their war services and encouraged to carry on as good civilians for a lasting peace by speakers prominent in civic and religious life of the community. The rally furnished the occasion for renewal of friendships interrupted by World War 2, and was a gala occasion for those of Polish descent and their friends. Alderman John Buboltz, a trustee of the host society, was highly commended for his arrangement of the affair. President John Tatarzewski of the organization voiced the sentiments of the membership that "it is good to have the boys back." The other speakers joined him. Taps were sounded in memory of those who died in service and a period of silence observed in their honor.

Polish Society Holds Welcome Home for Vets

More than 100 veterans of World War 2 attended the special banquet and party sponsored by the Sacred Heart Society at the White Eagle Hall Sunday. All of the ex-G.I.'s were members of the Immaculate Conception Parish.

The program was opened by the playing of taps in honor of the war dead by Sylvester Stopkile and one minute of silence was then observed. The playing of the national anthem then took place.

John Tatarzewski, president of the Sacred Heart Society, was the first speaker on the program. Other speakers included Mayor William F. Edinburg, Judge John M. Cashin, Lt. Col. Bernard A. Culliton, the Rev. Joseph Siczek, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, and John Buboltz, alderman of the fourth ward, who acted as master of ceremonies. He was chairman of the event.

All of the speakers heartily welcomed the veterans and praised each one for his work in bringing hope and everlasting peace to this country. The speakers also hoped that the returning veterans would continue to be as good citizens as they were soldiers for this nation.

The program ended with the playing of "God Bless America."

To secure respect for college rules, students in early colleges in America were fined four cents for cutting chapel to $3 for drunkenness.

Young People Conduct Presbyterian Services

The young people of the Roundout Presbyterian Church had charge of the morning service on Sunday, and the theme was "We Must Be the World We Want."

Interesting addresses were delivered by Miss Anne A. Van Deusen, moderator of the Westminster Fellowship of the North River Presbytery, Miss Amy Palmer, president of the Christian Endeavor Society of the church, Robert Morris and the pastor, the Rev. Robert E. Osman.

During the month the churches of the North River Presbytery are placing emphasis on the work of the young people of the church, and similar services were held throughout the Presbytery.

The responsive reading was led by Henry Peyer and the Scripture lesson read by Miss Van Deusen, while the offering was sung by Miss June Hall. The anthem was sung by the junior choir of the church.

The theme of the service was divided into four parts with Miss Van Deusen speaking on "With Our Talents," Miss Palmer on "Through Our Friendships," Mr. Morris "By Our Vision," and the Rev. Mr. Osman "In Our Hearts."

Home Bureau Hints On Cleaning Furs

The Ulster County Home Bureau passes on the following information on cleaning fur, received from clothing and textile specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

To clean fur, mix sawdust or cornmeal with dry cleaning fluid and work into the fur thoroughly, then brush out. To clean a wool collar on a dark coat, lay the coat on a table with the inside open and flat. First brush to remove loose dust. Then moisten a piece of dark wool with cleaning fluid. Sponge the soiled part with light brushing motions. Several light applications do a better job than too much fluid used at once. Pat dry with a dry wool cloth. Finally brush the wool with a medium, soft brush.

This method is especially adaptable to the part of the garment at the back of the neck which is subject to both perspiration and oil from the skin and hair and is a place where dust and grime accumulate and "work in" with wear.

A scarf helps protect both coat and neck from soil.

University Bill Gains Support of Methodist Group

The State of the County and Social Service Committee of the New York Methodist Conference at a meeting held February 1, adopted a resolution endorsing a bill introduced in the state legislature, providing for the creation of a State University.

The resolution in brief stated that it is as much the function and duty of the State of New York to furnish its young men and women a free higher education as it is to furnish them with a free high school and elementary school education; that the state thus far has not discharged this duty; that the members of the State of the County and Social Service Committee of the New York Methodist Conference, which comprises the greater portion of the city of New York, and the counties of Ulster, Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Columbia, Orange, Sullivan, Delaware, Greene, express approval of the bill and request the Republican majority in the senate and assembly to grant a public hearing on the measure at the earliest possible opportunity.
